Direct & Indirect Cooking Methods

One of the keys to extending your range of grilling capabilities is a fundamental understanding of the two common methods of cooking, Direct and Indirect cooking. Direct cooking is the most common method on the barbecue. In this method, food is placed directly above the heat source. It's perfect for thin cuts like steaks, burgers, fish and sausages. Due to the high temperatures within the barbecue, it's great for searing, where you require high and immediate heat to quickly brown the outside layer of meats thereby sealing in their juices to enhance flavor. In the Indirect cooking method, food is placed on the grill offset from the heat source. This approximates the action of an oven, making it the ideal method for cooking roasts of any kind.

Basic Barbecue Sauces

BBQ

1 tablespoon vegetable oil; 1 onion, chopped; 1 clove garlic, crushed; 1 teaspoon mustard powder; 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce; 1 tablespoon brown sugar; 3 tablespoons tomato sauce; 1 teaspoon chili sauce; 3/4 cup/185 ml/6 fl oz beef stock; freshly ground black pepper.

Heat oil in a saucepan and cook onion and garlic for 3-4 minutes or until soft. Stir in mustard powder, Worcestershire sauce, sugar, tomato sauce, chili sauce and stock. Bring to the boil, then reduce heat and simmer for 8-10 minutes or until sauce reduces and thickens slightly. Season to taste with black pepper. Makes 1 cup/250 ml/8 fl oz

Sweet & Sour BBQ

1 tablespoon vegetable oil; 1 small onion, chopped; 1 red pepper, chopped; 1 tablespoon soy sauce; 2 tablespoons honey; 1 tablespoon tomato paste (purée); 2 tablespoons cornflour; 1/2 cup/125 ml/4 fl oz cider vinegar; 1/2 cup/125 ml/4 fl oz chicken stock or water; 440 g/14 oz canned pineapple pieces, drained.

Heat oil in a saucepan and cook onion and red pepper for 4-5 minutes or until soft. Place soy sauce, honey, tomato paste (purée), cornflour and vinegar in a bowl and mix to combine. Stir cornflour mixture into vegetables, then stir in stock or water. Cook, stirring, over a medium heat for 2-3 minutes or until sauce boils and thickens. Stir in pineapple pieces and cook for 2-3 minutes longer. Makes 2 cups/500 ml/16 fl oz

tip from the chef

To store fresh ginger, peel and place in a glass jar. Cover with sherry or green ginger wine, store in the refrigerator and use as you would fresh ginger. Ginger will keep in this way for many months. The sherry or wine left after the ginger was used is ideal either for cooking or dressings.
